

Don Williams Country Boy September 1977

Along with the substantial number of albums he released between 1974 and 1978, Country Boy once again solidified the signature sound of the Gentle Giant. Don Williams' laid-back and amiable sound is at once intimate and reflective, as evidenced by the title track, and character driven, as in "Louisiana Saturday Nights," another of Bob McDill's strongest songs. Released on September 13, 1977 on ABC/Dot Records, Country Boy spawned another number one hit for Williams, with the title track reaching number one in both the U.S. and Canada. Additionally, "I've Got a Winner in You" reached number seven on the U.S. country charts.
