

Don Williams Especially For You June, 1981

MCA Records released Especially for You on June 26, 1981. Produced by Don Williams and Garth Fundis, the album peaked at number five in the U.S. Three singles were released off of the album, with “Lord I Hope This Day is Good” reaching number one on the U.S. charts, “If I Needed You,” a duet with Emmylou Harris written by the late Townes Van Zandt reaching number three, and “Miracles” reaching number four. It is interesting to note that Williams’ name is embossed on the upper right portion of the cover of the album, making it invisible on scans.
