

Don Williams Borrowed Tales August, 1995

On August 8, 1995, Don Williams released the album, Borrowed Tales, on American Harvest Records. The record is composed entirely of cover songs, from Eric Clapton's "Lay Down Sally" and Gordon Lightfoot's "If You Could Read My Mind," to Cat Steven's "Peace Train" and Carole King's "You've Got a Friend." It is the mark of a true artist that these songs, when covered by Don Williams, seem fresh and new again.
